YOUR MARBLE WILL NOW HAVE MORE STRENGTH

1

Block Reinforcement
After dressing a marble block to perfect square, block is treated with Italian epoxy with high intensity vacuum suction machine which helps to deep penetration of epoxy and thus creating a stronger foundation for further processes.

2

Cutting Slabs by the Power of MERCHETI (Italy)
All our gangsaw cutting machines are equipped with Hydraulic Tensioner from Mercheti Italy...it leads to cutting of slabs with uniform calibrated thickness and minimize surface undulation without developing any hairline cracks.

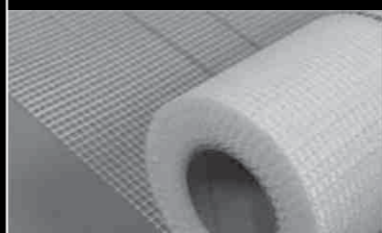

3

Top Surface Densification
After treating the slabs at high intensity heat in automated resin line oven, a densifier chemical is applied on stone surface in order to fill Microne pores to increase surface density and reduce natural porosity.

4

Reinforced Fibre Mesh
An Italian fibre mesh is applied on the back of marble slabs with italian epoxy to increase the slabs strength and reduce breakage and wastage.

5

Double Sided Epoxy Treatment
An Italian epoxy is applied on both sides of the slab in an automated resin line plant at high intensity heat and vacuum chambers to give it an unmatched extra strength and durability.

6

Automatic Line Polishing
To give long-lasting Lustre, homogeneous shine and incredible gloss to marble, slabs are polished in 16 head automatic line polishing machines.

7

Robotic Handling Technology
From Cutting to drying, epoxy treatment to polishing and from stocking to loading, entire process is executed by robots and automated machines which leads to no manual intervention, zero breakage and 100% Crack free results.

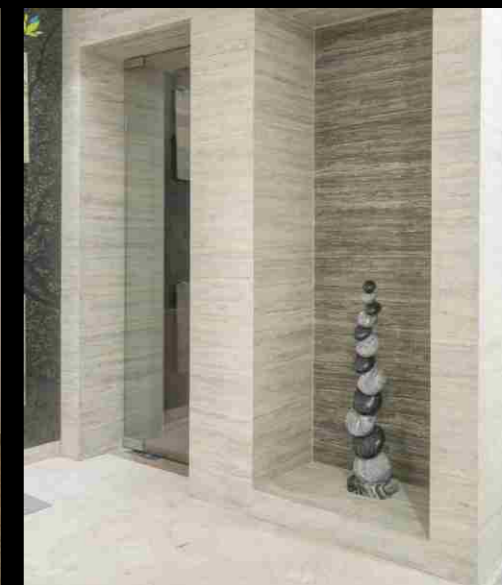

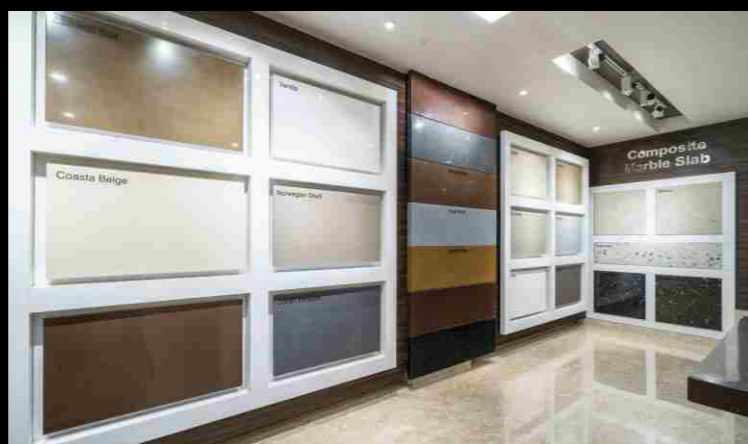

8

Stringent Quality Checks
High Level Quality control is achieved by performing multiple inspections through 12 point inspection checks during the entire processing. Each marble carrying MRT mark is with high durability and is crafted to perfection.

Showroom

Radhamadhav marbles (P) Ltd. Was established in 1990 under the vision of Mr. Ramesh chand ladha, who recognized the need to offer premium products and services using top line technology and infrastructure.
